ELEVEN ARE KILLED AND MANY INJURED

AMENTABLE ACCIDENT AT A CHURCH DEDICATION.

loor Gives Way at the Corner Stone Laying at Lorain, Ohio, and Three Hundred People Were Thrown Into a Pit—Contractor Had Been Warned The Death List.

Lorain, Ohio, Oct. 7.—While a great crowd was assembled yesterday afternoon to witness the laying of the corner-stone of the new St. Mary's Catholic church a temporary floor on which many were standing gave way, precipitating men, women and children into the basement. One was killed outright, ten were fatally injured and between thirty and forty others badly hurt. The services were just about to begin when the accident happened. Fully 400 persons were assembled on and around the platform, which had been constructed across the foundation of the building. The boards forming the temporary floor had been laid across the joists, which were supported in the middle by upright posts. These supports broke and the floor went down with a crash.

Fully 300 persons were thrown into the pit formed by the sagging of the middle of the floor. For a moment everybody was paralyzed by the calamity, but soon there was a rush forward by those willing to lend assistance to the crushed and struggling people, this made matters worse. For fifty more persons were crowded forward into the hole upon those who went down with the floor.

When the confusion had subsided somewhat many of those who were able to extricate themselves did so by walking and crawling over their less fortunate companions. The work of rescue was begun at once and all were finally taken from the pit.

Following is a list of the killed and wounded: Killed:—

MARY WEBER, 3 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Weber of Shefield.

ROSA M'GEE, 3 years old; skull fractured.

KATIE GRIFFIN, 8 years old; hurt internally.

MRS. MARY M'GRACITH, left leg broken and hurt internally.

MRS. JOHN EUSTIN, left leg broken and chest injured.

MRS. CORNELIUS SULLIVAN, the injured and left leg crushed.

MARY GAIBER, chest crushed and hurt internally.

MRS. MICHAEL KELLING, injured internally.

MRS. KATE DIEDRICK, both legs broken and hurt internally.

JOHN FIELD CAMP, hurt internally.

MRS. MARGARET MACKERT, hurt internally.

Those badly injured, but who will recover, are:

Nellie Dollard, head cut.

Nicholas Wagner, skull fractured.

Leo Theobald, 3 years old; head cut.

Colonel W. I. Brown, leg and arm bruised.

Mrs. John Fox, both legs broken.

Mrs. William Du Burgett, hurt internally.

Mrs. Mary Latimer, right leg crushed.

Mrs. Jacob Keefer, hurt internally and leg will have to be amputated.

John Martin, leg broken.

John Eustin, back hurt.

Mrs. M. Bruce, ankle broken.

William Ryan, leg broken.

Many others are severely bruised.

The old Catholic church and parochial school were at once turned into hospitals. A score of doctors were called and they were kept busy for hours caring for the injured, several of whom will die before morning.

The accident was due to defective members. The contractor was told that the platform was insecure, but he said he would hold all that could be crowded on it. There were between 1,500 and 2,000 persons on it when it gave way, despite the accident the services were continued, and the laying of the corner stone was completed.

OUR WARSHIPS ACTIVE.

able in Chinese Waters Will Find Them Ready.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Among the naval movements reported to the navy department yesterday were the arrival of the Monocacy at Shanghai and the departure of the Machias from Hankow to Shanghai and the treaty ports, while no reason is assigned by the commanding officers of these vessels for the movements it is assumed to be a desire of the admiral commanding the Asiatic station to have them in Southern China, where they may be readily available in the event of trouble, such as has been experienced during the past summer, in the looting and burning of missionary property. Both the Machias and the Monocacy are of light draft and adapted for navigating to some of the Chinese rivers.

Killed in the Havana Cyclone.

Havana, Oct. 7.—Word has been received here that forty-five more bodies have been recovered from the inundated district in Vuelta Abajo, the damage from the flood and cyclone having now reached the dimensions of a great disaster. Many more persons, in fact whole families, are missing, and as the floods subside and the district is gone over by search parties it is feared that the death list will be greatly increased.

MAY RECOGNIZE CUBANS.

President and Secretary Olney Said to Favor This Plan.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The question of whether the Cuban revolutionists shall be recognized as belligerents by the United States government will be determined, it is believed, by the events of the next six weeks in Cuba. The feeling in favor of such a step is stronger at the state department now than it has been at any time heretofore. Secretary Olney is being influenced by the public sentiment springing up all over this country for the Cubans. The meeting held recently in Chicago and the published interviews with the governors of many states, all showing a strong sympathy for the revolutionists, have had their effect on both the president and his secretary of state. They would not hesitate a day to recognize the belligerency of Cuba but for the fact that it has been learned officially that Spain has recently strengthened her military forces on the islands until they now number 100,000 instead of 80,000, as has been generally estimated.

HINSHAW VERDICT DENOUNCED

Church People of Indianapolis Want It Set Aside.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—The people of this city, especially the members of churches, are settling down to the belief that the Rev. William E. Hinshaw should not have been found guilty of the murder of his wife. The consensus of opinion is that he was convicted by the sentiment of the people in Hendricks county. His church friends in this city propose to do all they can to have the verdict of the jury set aside. A barber employed here has announced that he is ready to make affidavit that one of the jurors, Mr. Hunt, said to him before the trial that Hinshaw was before the trial that Hinshaw was hope to get a new trial on this affidavit. If they fail in this city they will ask the supreme court to set aside the verdict on the ground that it is not supported by the evidence.

Important Canal Completed.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 7.—The greatest feat of engineering skill ever performed in this mining region was completed yesterday. The Ebervale mine, for the first time in eight years was explored.

Messrs. Mulvey and Garvey climbed down the slope and reached the bottom of the third lift. They found the timber in a fair state of preservation. The east gangway was open and apparently in as good a state as the day on which the flood came. The successful drainage of these mines is due to the Jedd Tunnel. The opening is three miles in length and cost nearly $4,000,000. The canal's value is inestimable.

Five thousand miners will be given employment as soon as the mines are thoroughly opened.

HURTS PROHIBITORY LAW.

Important Decision of the Kansas Supreme Court.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 7.—An important decision was handed down by the supreme court Saturday involving the validity of one section of the prohibitory law. The law of 1889 conferred upon police officers the authority to enter any place where it was thought liquor was being sold and make arrests without a warrant. Under this section policemen have been in the habit of entering places which had fallen under suspicion, and arresting whoever they caught in apparent possession of the place. The court holds that this section, in so far as it authorizes an arrest without a warrant for misdemeanors not committed in the view of the officer, is unconstitutional and void.

Montana Wool Men Meet.

Great Falls, Mont., Oct. 7.—Ex-Senator Power called to order an important meeting of leading sheep men at the Park hotel last night. The object stated was to organize in this county, and ultimately in all wool-growing counties of Montana, for the choosing of delegates to the state convention at Helena, and state organization for the advancement of the interests of sheep men, and for representation at Washington whenever the tariff again engages the attention of congress. The opinion prevailed that there should be a flat tariff on all kinds of imported wool of about 6 cents. The Helena convention was fixed for Nov. 11.

Big Fire at Denver.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 7.—Fire broke out at 5:15 p. m. yesterday on the top floor of the four-story brick block, Nos. 1636 to 1644 Lawrence street, burning fiercely for several hours. For some time the Markham hotel, at the corner of Seventeenth street, and the immense dry goods emporium of Daniels & Fisher, extending from the burning building to Sixteenth street, were in great danger, but the fire department succeeded in confining the flames to the structure in which they started.

The losses will reach $78,000.

Ex-Gov. Beveridge Sinking.

Sandwich, Ill., Oct. 7.—There is no radical change in the condition of ex-Governor John L. Beveridge. He is weak, and worst of all, has lost faith in his own ability to recover.

While the doctor in attendance entertains some hopes for his recovery, he says that he would not be surprised, considering the present combination of diseases, to learn that General Beveridge had been called at any hour.

Conventions at Peoria, Ill.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 7.—Big preparations have been made by the local committees for the entertainment of the thirteenth annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor and the first annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, both of which organizations will meet here this week. Large delegations are expected, especially from Chicago.

French Near Madagascar's Capital.

Antananarivo, Oct. 7.—The French are thirty miles off and advancing fast.

The British cemetery and the French observatory here have been wrecked.

The queen, in a speech yesterday, said:

"The French are close upon you.

You said you would fight for me, but you have not fought. I will not yield.

I shall die at the palace." The Hoyas are preparing to make the last stand

NOTHING YET DONE AS TO VENEZUELA

ALL RUMORS CONCERNING THE MATTER UNTRUE.

Secretary Olney Said to Be Preparing a Forcible Note—Lord Salisbury Not Likely to Prove Very Tractable—Change in the English Government May Cause Complications.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Nothing has been done by our government with reference to the Venezuela boundary controversy since Secretary Gresham forwarded Minister Bayard a copy of the resolution passed by the late congress urging Great Britain to submit the disputed question to arbitration. It is believed, however, that Secretary Olney is now preparing a note for Mr. Bayard to lay before Lord Salisbury that will contain a more forcible expression of the views of the United States on this subject than has yet been officially uttered. The secretary of state is keeping his own secrets and has great respect for all the proprieties. If he sends such a dispatch the fact will not be known from this end of the line until the document is submitted to congress. It is also believed that the president will make it the basis of a vigorous discussion of the Monroe doctrine in his annual message.

There has been a change of government in England since our congress admonished John Bull as to the propriety of referring his South American controversy to arbitration, and the present prime minister is likely to receive such advice with less favor than his predecessor. While he was in the foreign office Lord Rosebery was disposed to be quite liberal in his treatment of the question, and in 1886 proposed a boundary line that would today be acceptable to the Venezuelan government. In fact, that dispute was in a fair way toward settlement when the Gladstone government was overthrown and Lord Salisbury, the present prime minister, who then came into power, declined even to discuss it. It was his arbitrary and offensive attitude and utterances at that time that terminated diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela and they have never been resumed. The British legation at Caracas has been closed since 1887. It is not improbable that the United States will advise Venezuela to insist upon a renewal of the Rosebery proposition if the president decides to give any advice at all.

HURTS PROHIBITORY LAW.

Important Decision of the Kansas Supreme Court.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 7.—An important decision was handed down by the supreme court Saturday involving the validity of one section of the prohibitory law. The law of 1889 conferred upon police officers the authority to enter any place where it was thought liquor was being sold and make arrests without a warrant. The court holds that this section, in so far as it authorizes an arrest without a warrant for misdemeanors not committed in the view of the officer, is unconstitutional and void.

Boat's Crew Rescued.

Plymouth, Oct. 7.—The Indian liner Dunera, from Calcutta for London, has landed nine of the crew of the Italian bark Filippo R. Captain Mortola, which left Cardiff Sept. 17 for Buenos Ayres and foundered en route. The Filippo R sprung a leak in midocean, and the crew worked incessantly at the pumps for three days, but they were obliged to abandon the ship. Captain Mortola, who refused to leave his ship, and the carpenter were drowned. The others of the crew had a terrible experience in an open boat. They had no oars, sails, nor water, and they were in a raging storm for thirty hours. They had abandoned all hope when they were picked up by the Dunera.

Deny That Rifles Are Failures.

Washington, Oct. 8.—A report from Fort Sheridan, Ill., that the new army magazine arm is a failure is premature, not to say inaccurate. The tests of the arm are not fully completed and, inasmuch as it was adopted after a very careful and conscientious trial, it is hardly like the uselessness of the weapon would be demonstrated at this late day. The only official and expert complaints which have been made to army ordinance officers regarding the modified Krag-Jorgensen gun are to the effect that the rifles should have wind gauges and are sighted too high.

Christian Endeavor Meeting Closed.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 7.—Last night closed the four days' session of the state convention of the Christian Endeavor, which was grandly successful in every respect. Nearly 1,500 delegates were registered and the total attendance has been something over 2,500. The weather was delightful throughout, though rain fell most of yesterday. This, however, did not prevent the people from turning out in vast numbers at all the meetings. Christian Endeavor occupied the pulpits of nearly all the churches.

Cubans Use Dynamite.

Sidney, Neb., Oct. 7.—A letter has been received here which throws a lurid light upon the war in Cuba. An action detailed by the writer is the destruction by means of dynamite of the amphitheater at the bull pen at a small town in Santiago de Cuba during a bull fight. Two Spanish officers and sixty-eight men perished, and 113 persons were injured.

Absconder Brought Back.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 7.—John Don Farden, the late money clerk of the Adams Express company at Terre Haute, Ind., alleged to be a defaulter, was arrested Saturday night by Pinkerton detectives in Baltimore.

BLOODY WORK DONE BY SULTAN'S MEN

FOUR HUNDRED ARMENIANS MISSING.

Representatives of the Powers Make a Formal Protest—Probability That Energetic Action Will Be Taken—A Big Meeting at Boston Endorses the Revolutionary Movement.

London, Oct. 7.—A Constantinople dispatch says that the Armenian Patriarch has received a list of the names of 400 Armenians who have been missing since last Monday, exclusive of the ninety-two bodies which have been sent to the Armenian hospital.

AMBASSADORS CONFER.

Representatives of the Powers Hold a Meeting at Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 7.—On Saturday Sir Phillip Currie, the British ambassador, had an interview with the Grand vizier, in which he made strong representations and forcibly urged upon him to cease making arrests of Armenians. The Grand vizier, in reply, expressed his anxiety to improve the situation. It is expected that he will advise the Sultan to grant amnesty to all Armenians who have been arrested in connection with the riots since Monday.

The ambassadors of the powers held a conference yesterday, and drew up a collective note, which will be presented to the Porte today. Afterward they went to the Porte personally, and made verbal representations on the subject of Armenia.

The foreign men-of-war, which are acting as guardships, have been ordered to moor in the harbor for the winter, in order to protect the foreigners in case of need.

Up to Friday eighty bodies had been registered as victims of the disorder, all of which had been terribly mutilated. Some of them contained over twenty gashes, besides bullet wounds, and others had been battered with bludgeons, so as to be unrecognizable. All accounts concur that the number of victims thrown into the sea was only three. The gendarmes killed a few of the wounded.

INDORSE REVOLUTION.

Mass Meeting of Armenians at Boston Use Strong Language.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—At a mass meeting of the Armenians of Boston and vicinity yesterday the topic of general discussion was the recent atrocities in Constantinople and the delay of the European powers in demanding redress of the Turkish government for those which have occurred over a year ago. Resolutions were passed by the meeting expressing sympathy for their compatriots now suffering in Turkish dungeons and advocating revolutionary measures as the only way that the Armenian nation can be saved from extermination. The resolutions say in part:

Resolved, That we express our sympathy for the revolutionary measures and consider the atrocities in Constantinople as a signal for the general uprising throughout the Turkish empire; and although the deaths and the tedious tortures inflicted upon our patriots caused distress, yet we advocate revolutionary measures in the belief that an honorable death, under such conditions, is preferable to ignominious annihilation, and we therefore pledge our support to our countrymen at home.

COL. SMITH DWELLS ON SPURGEON'S LIFE

FAITH AND EARNESTNESS ARE MORE THAN WORDS.

All Souls Has No Quarrels With Any
Churches in the City, Rev. Mr.
Southworth Says—Other Interesting News of Janesville Sunday Services.

Col. Nicholas Smith stood before an audience of complimentary proportions last evening. Baptists and Congregationalists united in the church of the former, to hear his address on "Spurgeon, the Mightiest Personality of the Century." Colonel Smith's admiration for the great English preacher is as intense as his study has been close. His discourse bespoke the enthusiast no less than the critic.

He traced Spurgeon's life from boy-hood—a boyhood spent in church and at home—through the days of his wonderful conversion and sanctification, to the time when his sermons awoke slumbering London. Those sermons broke nearly every rule for the artistic finish of a sermon, yet they stirred tens of thousands of hearts, warming and brightening by sheer outflow of soul. Spurgeon would have swayed men even had he been dumb. It is the leader and not the word that has moved men in all days. Christianity is the personality of Christ. So it was Spurgeon's faith, earnestness and perseverance that inspired. A man's sincerity is proven when he will give himself for a principle. Such sincerity marked Spurgeon's work. He had but one simple sermon—the message spoken on the plain of Galilee. He proved himself broader than the limitations, he, himself set down, and in a time when many pulpits were seeking applause he put aside honors and riches and gave himself wholly to the benefitting of man.

At the conclusion of Col. Smith's address prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Whiting of Massachusetts, an old time pastor of the Congregational church.

ALL SOULS AND OTHER CHURCHES

Rev. Victor E. Southworth Says He Agrees Far More Than He Disagrees.

Rev. Victor E. Southworth took six new members into fellowship in All Soul's church Sunday morning, and in his address of welcome he defended the relation of All Soul's church to the other churches as follows:

"Somehow or other in years past, the impression has gone abroad that this church is in opposition to other churches. This is a serious misunderstanding. For my part there is no church in our city in the success of which I am not deeply interested. I agree with the other churches more than I disagree.

"I am anxious to make this open church of ours a common meeting place, for all the people of our city who are interested in the pursuit of truth, or in the promotion goodness, or in the exercise of human kindness. This is our day set apart for the public reception of new members. It is with the greatest pleasure that I, in the name of this society, invite you to share in our labors for the practical betterment of the world.

"On the 17th day of December 1866, it was voted that 'any person may become a member of this church who really desires to get good from it or do good in it.'

"There are no other conditions to be fulfilled. If you think that we can be a help to you or that you can be a help to us, you are welcome. This applies to every one equally. We do not discriminate. There is nothing which can disqualify you for our friendship. You are not so good that you cannot help us to be better. And you cannot be so bad that that we cannot help you to be better.

"This is in every sense an open church. We have no fences to shut any one out or to shut any one in. We do not ask you what you believe or what you do not believe. We have no written declaration of doctrines to force upon you. We do not ask you to deny the doctrines we already cherish. If you are a member of some other church, we do not ask you to turn against it.

"We are at work trying to build up noble lives, and not to propagate any particular theological ideas. In this church no one, either in the pulpit or in the pew, is asked to do or say anything that he or she can not do and say with all their heart. You may be as orthodox as you like, or you may be as unorthodox as you like. You may be conservative or radical. We want to know that you are sincere and reverent. We want to know that you are trying to lead a noble, useful life if we can be of any service to you in your effort to make the most of life, that is enough.

"All we require from you is that you in turn shall exercise towards others the generous hospitality we now extend to you."

Rev. Mr. Woodmansee, spoke in Court Street M. E. church Sunday in the absence of Rev. Mr. Halsey. He pleaded for the homeless children of the state.

CYCLERS RIDE THROUGH THE MUD

Two Monroe Wheelmen Come into Janesville in the Rain.

When J. Lythe and J. German left Monroe early yesterday morning it was their intention to come to Janesville "just for a pleasure ride." They left home at 4 o'clock a. m., and after plowing through all kinds of mud they reached the Bower City at 8 o'clock. Where the pleasure came in they failed to see, for as German said, "his wheel slipped from under him fifty times." They took the train for home this morning.

STAMP COLLECTING LAD BETTER.

Charley Williams of Palmyra, Is Regaining the Use of His Limbs.

Many Janesville people will remember Charley Williams of Palmyra, the little cripple who spent much of the past year in collecting postage stamps, to enable him to take treatment at a medical institute in Indianapolis, Ind. He went there in June, and now, with the aid of crutches, he is able to walk across the floor, and is gradually regaining the use of his limbs. His friends promise a complete cure if he continues the treatment one year.

TWO GOOD MAGAZINES COMBINED.

Artists and lovers of art generally will feel deeply interested in the illustrations which adorn the pages of The Monthly Illustrator and Home and Country, New York, for October. Especially will lovers of bric-a-brac and such be pleased with an article entitled, "The Pottery of the American Indians," by W. F. Hoffman. M. D. and not less true is it that painters—amateur and professional—will take kindly to "My Pet Subject," by Arthur Hoeber. Both these articles, with others too numerous to mention in detail, go towards making up a table of contents and a display of artistic taste pleasing to the senses and elsewhere unequalled in the magazines of the month.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS SWEAR BY M'KINLEY

ONLY ONE MAN WAS AGAINST OHIO'S GOVERNOR.

Milwaukee Journal Interviews Janesville Men as to Their Choice—Result in All the Cities of the State About the Same—What Bower City Residents Said.

Wisconsin republicans favor the nomination of William McKinley for president.

And so does Janesville—if you can believe the Milwaukee Journal's statement.

The Journal on Saturday caused their correspondents all over the state to interview some of the leading men of their cities as to their choice for the head of the republican ticket. According to the Journal's published list, McKinley was a strong favorite. The Janesville men quoted were Judge

WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

J. W. Sale, Hon. Fenner Kimball, Dr. James Mills, S. B. Smith, Alderman S. C. Burnham and City Treasurer Fathers. Their replies to the question asked were as follows:

Judge John W. Sale—I hardly know. Think McKinley the strongest man. Harrison made a good president, and if nominated again I believe the party would be satisfied.

Assembliesman Fenner Kimball—I guess McKinley is the strongest man. However, we have a number of good men for the presidency. McKinley, Keed, Harrison, Allison—all good winners. Draw one from among these and I will be satisfied.

Dr. James Mills—McKinley. He is the best man for president we have in the nation.

S. B. Smith, president First National bank—Allison is the man for the republican nomination.

Alderman S. C. Burnham—McKinley first, last and all the time.

James A. Fathers, city treasurer—I tell you McKinley is the best man to nominate. Reed is looming up all over the country, and will make a good candidate. But McKinley is my choice at this time, because I believe he is the strongest man in the party.

GEN. DOE BACK FROM THE WEST

Assistant Secretary of War Was Out on a Hunting Trip.

Perhaps you noticed General J. B. Doe's new whiskers, and wondered at the luxuriance thereof. The general didn't wear them when he lived in Janesville and neither does he wear them at Washington. They are nurtured by the winds of the prairie, and thrived in the shade of the mountains, for they were raised, forsooth, in Idaho. The general was on his way back to Washington when he stepped off the train at the Janesville depot Saturday, he having been spending his vacation in a hunting trip. For a month or more he had been living in the saddle and in camp, and it was during this time that his whiskers developed. The party tramped all over the state and visited every place where the fishing or shooting was good, going as far as Henry lake. They killed two bears besides smaller game. In the course of their trip they passed Jackson's Hole, the scene of the recent Indian outbreaks. The general is now the guest of friends at Beloit.

KIMBERLY CAUGHT LOUISVILLE.
People Were Immensely Pleased With His Singing at the Encampment.

The Milwaukee Telegraph says: "The Louisville people were pleased with the 'Wisconsin Soldier Singer,' Mr. E. O. Kimberly. He sang at a number of the great camp fires during the national encampment. This is the way the secretary of the Citizens Committee spoke of his good work, in a letter addressed to Mr. Kimberly after his return home to Janesville: 'It gives me much pleasure to state for this committee that we all join in thanking you for your valuable services rendered at our camp-fires during the 20th encampment of the G. A. R. Your voice was rich, clear and sweet, and from the manner in which you rendered your selections, we can say that we are not disappointed in the least, and judging from the tremendous applause you received and the number of times you were recalled, we know the thousands who heard you could not have been better pleased. You may rest assured that whenever you come to Louisville that the latch string hangs on the outside for E. O. Kimberly.'

BELOIT FREE PRESS ENLARGED.

The Line City's Best Paper is Evidently Prospering, As It Should.

With Saturday's issue the Beloit Free Press was enlarged to a seven-column folio, making a neat and agreeable change. Editor Ingersoll, in his announcement says:

"The change today has been made hastily, owing to press of other work and duties. Improvements have been designed which will show for themselves as time passes and our arrangements are completed. It is our purpose to give to our citizens a home newspaper in every sense of the word, and one that shall deserve their general endorsement and support.

"Although practically this enlargement amounts to six columns of the old paper, or an addition of twenty-five per cent to the matter published each day, the price of subscription is not changed."

The Gazette is glad to note this evidence of prosperity on the part of the Free Press. It is an excellent paper, a fact that the Line City people should, and evidently do, appreciate.

Beware of Counterfeits.

Who infest the market and are the means of robbing sick people of their money, and what is still greater consequence of not unfrequently aggravating the complaints under which they labor. It is an act of duty we owe to society to warn the people against these dangerous frauds. A little care on the part of the purchaser will protect them from imposition by bearing in mind these facts: Never buy where it is offered in bags or jugs as the genuine Hostetter's Standard Bitters are sold only in bottles having the handsome steel plate label displaying the combat between St. George and the Dragon, and having at the bottom a miniature note of hand for one cent, bearing a fac simile of the signature of the president of the company. When the cork is pulled off, a paper which is impressed with the name of the article, together with a medallion head in the center. Any person selling the counterfeit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters we shall not hesitate to bring to justice, as we never fail to convict.

DRY SUNDAY IS NOT ALL.

Personal liberty is not the only question involved in New York--is not the main question, in fact. The excise law, which has created such a stir, is the work of democratic hands. Its original inspiration, to be sure, was the system of blackmail to which it opened the way, and the great howl of indignation which has gone up of late is not against the law itself, but against its enforcement--not on behalf of individual liberty, but to restore to the corrupt municipal force of the city a source of illicit income which they have enjoyed so long that they have come to regard it as an inalienable right.

The other point from which the fight is significant to the American people is its final outcome as the action of a representative American community. In connection with it there has been much talk of a American Sunday and the question has arisen whether that term signifies the Sunday of New Orleans and Chicago or the Sunday of some Massachusetts village. In New York city, the two elements, the one faithful to colonial tradition, the other of purely foreign extraction that it has never been truly naturalized, are both represented. For this reason it affords an appropriate fighting ground for the two elements, and the result, while not decisive for the rest of the country, will be an index of average public sentiment and will test the strength of both elements.

SCHOOLS AND GOOD ROADS.

Good roads and scientific instruction in farming are two great needs of the agricultural community. Wisconsin is meeting the second requirement but she is far behind on the first. Agricultural instruction we already have and it is efficient and constantly being improved and expanded. When in addition we have a net work of good roads crossing and recrossing the farming districts of the state, we shall have another powerful inducement to the farmer to be faithful to his chosen calling.

At this distance it seems as if there had been a good deal of foolish talk about "dry Sunday" in New York. If a Sunday saloon is good for New York it is good for all the other towns in the state. The men of the city and the men of the country are of one stock, and it remains to be shown that their physical needs are changed by their environment.

Josiah Quincy endorses Mr. Cleveland's consular reform. What sort of reform it is could not be more clearly shown. Quincy is the young man who did more than any one since Jackson's time to debauch the consular service and use it as a partisan machine for controlling votes.

Dr. Henry Smith Williams writing of "Politics and the Insane," in the North American Review for October, emphatically declares against the prevalent custom of allowing partisan politics to enter into the management of asylums where the dependent insane are cared for.

No wonder the last treasury balance was more favorable. The judges and attendants of the federate courts have received no pay since June, and other branches of the government service are in the same condition.

People who read the political news from down east doubtless believe that Richard Croker came back from England for the express purpose of having nothing to do with Tammany.

"The right men in the right places," said the Methodist conference after reviewing the Janesville work of Rev. D. Halsey and Rev. Mr. Porter.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

AN IOWA LADY PRONOUNCED INCURABLE.

Suffered Twenty-Five Years From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble--Remarkable Manner in Which She Became Fully Cured.

(From Mich. Christian Advocate.)

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels, an estimable lady residing at Lynnville, Jasper Co., was for twenty-five years a sufferer from Dyspepsia, and her complete restoration to health is so remarkable that we present the facts in the case for the benefit of our readers, many of whom have doubtless suffered in the same manner and will, therefore, be interested in learning how all stomach troubles may be avoided and cured. Mrs. Skeels says: I used only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I received such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact it has been six months since I took the medicine and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was incurable as I had suffered for twenty-five years. I want half a dozen packages to distribute among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy. Truly yours,

MRS. SARAH A. SKEELS.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make the complexion clear by keeping the blood pure.

They increase flesh by digesting flesh-forming foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remedy designed especially for the cure of stomach troubles and nothing else.

One disease, one remedy, the successful physician of to-day is the specialist, the successful medicine is the medicine prepared especially for one disease.

A whole package taken at one time would not hurt you, but would simply be a waste of good material.

Over six thousand men and women in the State of Michigan alone have been cured of digestion and dyspepsia by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Sold by all druggists at 50 Cents per package, or by mail from Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

A CRASH ON THE RAIL CAUSED BY THE RAIN

SMASHUP IN THE ST. PAUL YARDS YESTERDAY,

Passenger Ran Into the "Paper Train"
And Did Considerable Damage—
No One Was Injured—Slippery Rails
Let Locked Wheels Slide—Local Men in the Eagle Wreck.

Slippery rails caused a crash in the St. Paul yards yesterday afternoon.

An engine was temporarily disabled and five cars were wrecked but no one was hurt.

The loss will be five or six hundred dollars, and it took a wrecking crew until this morning to get the debris all cleared away.

The trains that came together were the Chicago passenger; due here at 12:45 o'clock and the "paper train" which leaves Janesville for Mineral Point about the same time.

Engineer Alex. Gosselin pulls the passenger with engine No. 725. He was eighteen minutes late in reaching the Bower City, while Engineer Thomas Fox was behind time with the paper train. Engine No. 240 pulls the latter and Charles P. Mooney was the conductor. The paper train had just gotten under headway and was moving slowly by the coal sheds, when the passenger came into view.

Collision Was Sidewise

William Logerman, a car repairer, was at the crossing and saw that the two trains must meet at a "V," or switch, so he hastened to flag the passenger.

Engineer Gosselin saw the signal and pushed the air brake lever over to the emergency notch. The wheels locked with a jerk, but the rails were slippery from the rain and the train slid along the track. Engineer Fox had done the same thing but could not stop his train. Seeing that the accident was inevitable, Engineer Gosselin and his fireman jumped.

The freight train slid by the switch and the passenger engine struck it with a bang. The blow was a glancing one, but it did great damage. The freight was clear of the track except for the last eight cars. The passenger engine poked its nose into a box car. It was loaded with baled hay. The engine cut deep into its side and tossed car and bales into the ditch. It doubled the axles of the car up like hair pins and ripped the trucks loose beside cutting the side out of the car. The next car was loaded with coal. This too was cut nearly in two lengthwise and the coal ran out onto the ground.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Escaped.

Four more cars were damaged before the engine was stopped, and the wreck was a picturesque one. The last car on the train was the special, occupied by the Cook Sisters Uncle Tom's Cabin Company. It was not damaged in the least, but the company had a good scare when they saw the engine plowing its way through the cars directly toward them. They thought then, that their progress in the line of immortalizing Harriet Beecher Stowe's great story was at an end. But it wasn't, and they are still at large.

Bunting six freight cars into kindling wood had stopped the engine's course. It was wedged into the mass of lumber and merchandise with the pilot gone and both cylinders broken. But the damage was not so great as it seemed to be, and the machine can be repaired in the shops here.

Wrecking Crew Got To Work.

The wrecking crew were soon at work. They pulled the broken cars out of the pile, while men rolled the bails of hay, etc., out of the way. The merchandise was gathered up and order began to come out of disorder. It was only a few minutes after the accident that the crew took hold of the first car and until 10 o'clock last night they worked steadily. Today the last piece of debris was picked up, and only the holes in the ground showed where the accident had occurred.

The financial loss to the company will probably foot up to five or six hundred dollars, and that is a less sum than was expected. Aside from the cylinders, no vital part of the engine was injured, the pilot and small parts being easily replaced. None of the cars were loaded with costly freight.

No blame was attached to the train crews. Engineers Gosselin and Fox both did all they could to stop their trains, but could not, because the track was slippery.

LOCAL MEN IN EAGLE'S WRECK

Janesville Employees Jumped and Escaped Injury When the Crash Came.

Two Janesville men passed through the wreck on the St. Paul road at Eagle Sunday morning. They were Firemen Arthur Rogers, brother of Mrs. O. D. Bates, of this city, and Brakeman James Dee, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dee. The accident occurred at 5 a. m., one freight train running into the rear end of the one ahead of it. After the collision the cars caught fire, and a caboose and five freight cars were burned, the employees losing what property they had in the caboose.

At 1 o'clock in the morning an extra freight train left Milwaukee bound for Prairie du Chien. One hour later freight No. 67 followed. At Eagle the extra train stopped and it was there that the collision occurred. Through some mistake train No. 67 pulled into Eagle and crashed into the caboose of the extra train as the latter was pulling out. Engineer Bamford saw the train ahead of him but it was too late to avert an accident. Engineer Bamford and his fireman jumped. They didn't do so any too quick. The engine is badly wrecked and is nearly a total loss. The caboose was demolished and five cars were piled in a heap beside the track. From the wrecked engine they soon caught fire. It was with difficulty that the rest of the extra train was saved from being burned.

The extra train was in charge of Engineer George and Conductor Ray. As soon as the train crew could recover from the shock they began saving the cars. The engine of the extra was brought into use and all the cars which were not derailed were saved. The cars of train No. 65 were also backed out of the flames' reach and an effort was made to extinguish the blaze, but this proved unsuccessful. The train crew was unable to save any of the merchandise. The loss of the cars and freight is estimated at $15,000.

WIFE AND A MAID ARE BOTH MISSING

W. H. DERHAM OF ROCKFORD,
ON A WILD GOOSE CHASE.

His Spouse Left Her Rockford Home
With Winsome Maud Medlar and Now they Cannot Be Found
Though the Police Have Seared
High and Low.

W. H. Derham was pretty well disengaged when he got out of a St. Paul coach to take a few turns on the Janesville platform while his train waited for the transfer of the mail car.

Mr. Derham, who lives at Rockford was searching for his wife who is missing from her Rockford home leaving word that she would visit in Madison. Perhaps it was a coincidence, but Maud Medlar, a pretty Rockford girl left her home for school the same day but did not show up in her class. She sent a note to her mother setting forth she was tired of Rockford, of her home and home treatment and was on her way to Boston where she would shift for herself. An investigation disclosed that she had purchased a ticket to Beloit, and it was later learned that Mrs. Derham waited for her at Milton Junction. Since then neither have been seen. Derham had been to Milwaukee looking for them, but was unsuccessful.

Charles Jones, of the town of Porter, was tried on the charge preferred by a young lady of the same town, on Saturday, before Judge Phelps in the municipal court. District Attorney Jackson prosecuted, while T. S. Nolan defended, and the jury found Jones guilty. The case was then adjourned, by consent of parties, until October 12 when testimony as to expenses will be taken and judgement rendered.

General Grant's Tomb.

The colossal base of Grant's tomb in Riverside park, New York city, is practically complete, and after the masonry has been given a proper time to settle the base will be capped by the lofty dome. Work was begun in June, 1891. The foundation is of solid concrete 22 feet deep and 110 feet square. Upon it has been erected the main structure of PRESENT CONDITION OF THE GRANT TOMB. The tomb, which is 100 feet square and constructed of hard and fine grained Maine granite. It towers 85 feet into the air and is of the same architecture on all four sides. The walls are of plain granite broken in the center by a line of four granite columns 30 feet high and set in recesses. The granite for the tomb will alone cost $205,000, and when the project is completed next June $500,000 will have been expended in providing a fitting monument and sepulcher for the great soldier. The dome will be a steel structure with a shell of granite. It will rise 80 feet above the top of the base and will thus tower 165 feet above the earth and 300 feet above the Hudson river.

Old Argyll's Young Wife.

The recent marriage of the Duke of Argyll and the Hon. Ina Erskine McNeill was an event of unusual moment in the social annals of Great Britain. There is a difference of more than half DUKE OF ARGYLL AND HIS BRIDE. A century in the ages of the distinguished groom and bride, the former being 72 and the latter 21.

He was first married in 1844 to Elizabeth Georgiana, daughter of the Duke of Sunderland, who died in 1878. His second wife, whom he married in 1881, was Amelia Maria, daughter of the Right Rev. Thomas Leigh Claughton, late bishop of St. Albans. She died about a year ago. The present bride of "his grace of Argyll" was formerly a lady of the bedchamber to the queen and is a cousin of Sir John McNeill, the laird of Colonsay. The McNeills are an ancient and distinguished family, who for many generations have shared with the Campbells in the ownership of the western isles.

For Greater Railroad Speed.

The latest invention for increasing speed in railway transportation is the Holman friction geared truck locomotive, which is being built at the Baldwin works in Philadelphia. The inventor is W. J. Holman of Minneapolis. The engine itself is very much like the ordinary locomotive, with driving wheels of five feet in diameter. The driving wheels rest upon and between two smaller wheels, which in turn will rest upon and between three other wheels that finally rest on the rails. With this appliance, when the drivers of the locomotive begin to turn they necessarily, through friction, give an opposite rotary motion to the small wheels upon which they bear, and these small wheels upon the same principle give a forward rotary motion to the third set of wheels upon which they are bearing. Thus as a natural result one revolution of the driving wheels in this multiplicity of wheels in pyramid form carries the locomotive forward just twice as far as a single revolution of the drivers directly in contact with the rails. In other words, whatever the speed might be on the rails themselves the speed of the engine is increased two-fold.

Queer Keir Hardie.

J. Keir Hardie, the British socialist, labor agitator and ex-member of parliament who has made something of a sensation by his recent speeches in this country, is a decidedly unique and interesting character. He is a broad shouldered, squarely built Scotchman, about medium height, with keen gray eyes, dark iron gray hair and a brown beard. On all occasions he wears the costume of the Scotch miners, a cap, woolen jacket or short sack coat, full knee breeches and long stockings. Hardie is about 40 years of age and has been identified with labor unions all his life. He was elected to parliament in 1892, but failed of re-election this year.

Served Him Right.
The publisher of the Boys' Own Pirate Paper, justly apprehended and condemned, begged to address the crowd from the scaffold.

The headsman yielded a cent.

And everybody was glad that the headsman instantly let fall his ax and cut off his said.—N. Y. Recorder.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

DINNER GOWN.

tail coquats at the back being the only flaring trimming now permitted even on draped collars.

Although the fashion of allowing the decolletage to show the top of the arm is so prevalent, it is not compulsory, many gowns being cut high over the shoulders in the long established way. In high bodices also the sleeve puff is often free from the shoulder seam, thus leaving the arm at liberty, as it cannot be when the top of the sleeve is closely fitted. The sloping shoulder effect is very feminine, but remarkably inconvenient.

The illustration shows a dinner gown having a plain godet skirt of chameleon peau de soie. The bodice of the same material is slightly folded back and front and has a square decolletage edged with passementerie and motifs of tinted beads. On each side chains of beads are carried to the waist, where they are fastened by a motif. The full half length sleeves are of emerald liberty velvet.

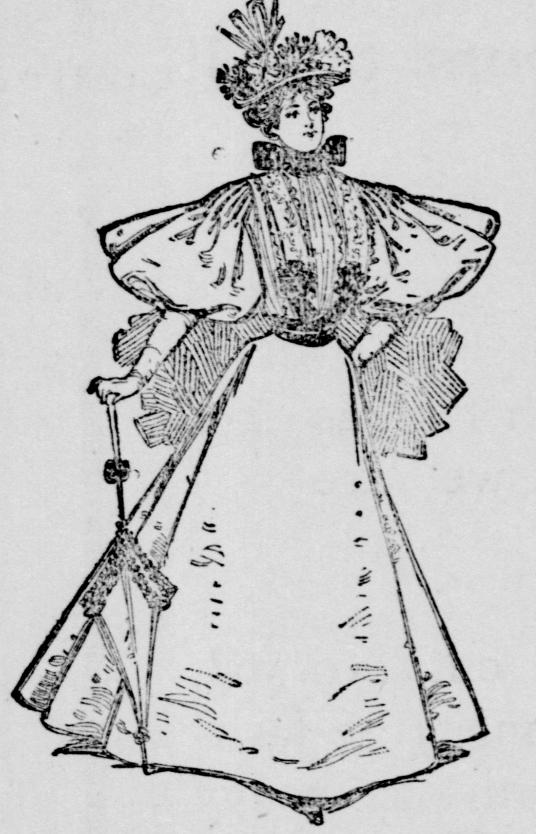

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Skirts, Jackets, Belts, Sounding Brass and Tinkling Cymbals.

Skirts and jackets of cloth and serge are still worn with colored cambric shirt waists plaited and finished with turn over collar and cuffs of white linen. The favorite colors for these waists are deep pink and gray blue, the accompanying cravats being of white or black silk or cambric. With black cravats a pearl scarfpin is worn, while with white ones ruby, sapphire, emerald or other tinted stones are preferred.

White and light brown velvety kid bolts with silver, gold or jeweled finishings are the latest fashion in waistbands, while shoelace tags and clasps to hold the knot are shown in gold for fine, light shoes. Now that we can have the tags of our shoestrings made of gold, why will not fashion also give us toothbrushes backed with the same valuable metal and set with precious stones? We might also have the nails of our shoes made of gold, as are the eyelet holes and clasps of luxurious corsets. Away with brass, steel and silver! They are unfit for the recognition of polite society.

WALKING COSTUME.

so much in evidence in its untidiness, but at the same time it is not becoming to the average woman. Veils are very voluminous and are draped round the hat.

Plaids are very much to the fore this fall and promise to be popular all winter. They are seen in all sorts of goods, plaid crepons being particularly attractive and serviceable, especially in dark tones. Plaid mohairs are also shown in great variety. Light, delicate plaids are much liked, such as have dark lines on a ground of rose, beige, clear blue, light gray and fawn. Fur will be much worn with these tartans and combines well with them, otter and sable being preferred.

The sketch shows a walking costume of platinum gray cloth. The godet skirt is plain. The bodice is gathered at the neck and waist and has Bretelles of white open embroidery over carnation red. The belt of carnation red velvet forms a crossed corset in front, the ends terminated by choux at the base of the Bretelles. The 1840 sleeves are plaited over the curve of the shoulder and form a full puff to the elbow. The collar of red velvet is finished with coquets at the back. The hat of black felt is trimmed with guipure and shaded carmines, while an aigret of reeds is placed at the side. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SLEEVES AND COLLARS.

The One Large and Bouffant, the Other High and Tight.

Although it can scarcely be said as yet that sleeves have diminished in volume, they are lower and more often draped than they were. This winter the fullness will be retained by embroidered galloons, passementerie or buttons, these last being no less conspicuous ornaments of the costume than they have been for the last few months.

The sleeve for all gowns is large and bouffant, terminating at the elbow and diversely gathered or draped, the plain balloon being more and more slighted. Some sleeves are puffed and held in by ribbons, ruches or narrow straps, others are gathered on the inside of the arm, while still others have a capuchin plait.

Very high tight collars, called "swan" collars, will be the finish for many fashionable gowns this winter. These are edged at the top by a small ruche, feather trimming or turned down squares of white silk or satin edged with pearls, the last named style having a medieval effect. The mode of trimming collars with bows or choux on each side is gone by, horizon-tail coquats at the back being the only flaring trimming now permitted even on draped collars.

Although the fashion of allowing the decolletage to show the top of the arm is so prevalent, it is not compulsory, many gowns being cut high over the shoulders in the long established way. In high bodices also the sleeve puff is often free from the shoulder seam, thus leaving the arm at liberty, as it cannot be when the top of the sleeve is closely fitted. The sloping shoulder effect is very feminine, but remarkably inconvenient.

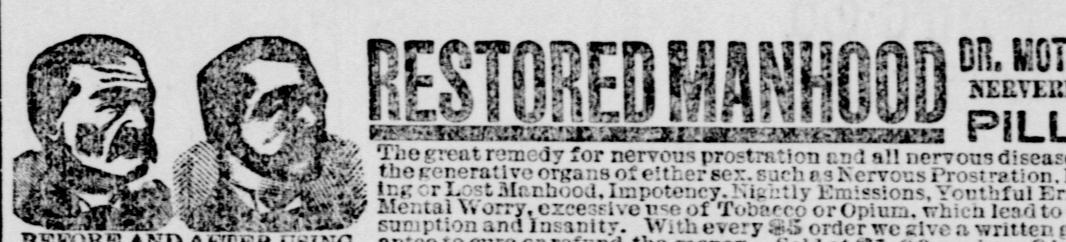

The illustration shows a dinner gown having a plain godet skirt of chameleon peau de soie. The bodice of the same material is slightly folded back and front and has a square decolletage edged with passementerie and motifs of tinted beads. On each side chains of beads are carried to the waist, where they are fastened by a motif. The full half length sleeves are of emerald liberty velvet.
